Trust in our Knowledge Confidence in our Security

The need for data security affects all organizations. Technology allows us to collect vast amounts of personal and identifying information, research, and other sensitive corporate data that can be transferred with ease. Unfortunately, all too often sensitive information is not secure, particularly upon disposal. Unsecure data can lead to identity theft, intellectual property and trade secret theft, and regulatory non-compliance.

Sims Recycling Solutions eliminates the risks involved with data that resides on your end-of-life electronics. Our selection of services R.C.M.P. Approved shredding processes and comprehensive reporting, ensuring compliance with all your data security requirements.
